

National Media Museum

IN Your Face Interactive experience for families

Free, drop in, 10am-4pm every day
Join us for a pick-and-mix adventure of hands-on displays, demonstrations and activities as we investigate the most photographed, examined, and expressive part of the human body: the face.

Drop into one of the Stations around our two galleries and you'll have the opportunity to join in a quick activity, listen to a short talk or take on a fast and fun challenge. Get thinking, get talking, get involved and learn something new.

Plus during October half term you'll be able to join with our Aardman expression lab! Aardman are the cool animators who make Shaun the Sheep and Wallace and Gromit, and now it's your turn to see what expressions you can create.

BORNINBRADFORD

For a Healthy Future

Born in Bradford are back for another Family Festival this year with the theme All About Me! You'll find us in City Park and Margaret McMillan Tower on 22 October and 23 October, come and join us to kick start your half term!

Become a researcher in our new show, have your photo taken in our fabulous 'What I Want To Be When I Grow Up' photo booth, take part in science experiments, explore our research bus and meet the researchers! To record your activities we'll have roving journalists and the opportunity for the family to do the recording and interviewing!

Once you're tired out from all of the activities take a look around our marketplace to find out about the different organisations in your area, whilst the kids are kept busy with table top activities!

Don't forget to walk through the connecting door into the National Media Museum to explore all the activities they have running too! There are more activities to be announced so make sure you keep your eyes peeled for the latest information.

Bradford Libraries All About Me Super Saturdays

Make your own book with Sponge Tree. Create a giant Wall Of (selfie) Fame or make your own All About Me bunting. You can paint the windows in the Library to create your own glass paint selfies and we're even painting faces too. Meet the Bookstart Bear for a cuddle just before our themed storytimes at 11am & 2pm. Outside the library we will be having fun with messy hand/footprints. City Library Free, Drop in Super Saturday 22 October, 11am - 3pm

Join Sponge Tree and create your own hand held mirror with colours and textures. Create a giant Wall Of (selfie) Fame or make your own All About Me bunting.
