

Create your own montage

Can you find a selection of images called Syracas? (tick)

For Syrcas Maud Sulter uses a technique called Photomontage by sticking different photographs and images together to create one picture.

Maud uses a collection of African art, European paintings, modern images, and travel souvenirs to create her photomontages.

Now use the drawing of Bradford City Park to create a montage using your drawing skills.

TIP: Use the everyday objects for ideas of what to draw onto City Park.

Well done explorers! You made it to the end of the trail. We hope you have enjoyed it and learnt something new. Show your trail sheet and drawings to the Gallery Assistants as they would love to see what you have made.

Welcome Gallery Explorers!

Time to get your thinking caps on by doing the fun activities in this gallery trail and exploring the fantastic work on show at Impressions Gallery.

Please explore with an adult if you can, and if you have any questions you can ask the friendly Gallery Assistant on the Welcome Desk.

Maud Sulter (1960-2008) was an award-winning artist, writer and curator. She was born in Glasgow which is a city in Scotland, but also has Ghanaian heritage. Ghana is a country in Africa.

Let's get looking!

Your first task as gallery explorer is to find these items below in the photographs and exhibition.

Tick them off once you have found them.

Think about ...
 Can you find this photograph?

Who is she?
 what is her name?
 .....
 What year do you think she was born?
 .....
 Which country do you think she lives in?
 .....

- Find the group of photographs called Les Bijoux? (tick box)
 These are all photographs of Maud.
- How many photographs of Maud Sulter can you count in the group of photographs Les Bijoux?

Spot the Difference

Look Closely.... Can you spot the 7 differences between these two photomontages.

A photomontage is a work of art made up from lots of different photos that don't always match to make one picture.

Put a circle around the differences when you find them.
